Donald E. Fay, upholding the affirmative, stresses a point in the debate on Federal World Government which Loyola debaters presented before the Engineers' Club of Baltimore on April 14.

Engineers Club Hears Debaters

Loyola College's Bellarmine Debating Society participated in an exhibition prize debate at the Engineers' Club of Baltimore on April 14. Donald E. Fay and Francis X. Gallagher upheld the affirmative side of the national debaters' topic—"Resolved: That a Federal World Government Should Be Established." The negative team, which won the debate, consisted of Edward O. Clarke and Winston Kourey.

Later on the same day, Dudley Shoemaker and Gallagher upheld the affirmative in a debate against a team from Johns Hopkins University at Hopkins, the contest ending in a tie decision. On April 15, Edward North and Clarke argued the negative against Western Maryland College at Westminster.

Two debates were held on April 16. Alan Harris and Daniel Mackey faced the negative team of Georgetown's Foreign Service School at Georgetown, while at Evergreen, Fay and Gallagher opposed a negative team from Fordham University.

Two Bellarmine teams journeyed to Delaware to debate the University of Delaware on April 17. The negative Greyhound team was composed of Eugene Welsh and Winston Kourey, who won an Oregon-style debate; the affirmative was again upheld by Fay and Mackey, but no decision was given.

Scholarship Exams Set For Saturday

Approximately two hundred students from Baltimore's high schools will visit the College tomorrow to take the annual scholarship examinations. The tests are open to all high school seniors who will be eligible to enter the Freshman class in September, 1948.

Awards will be given to those students attaining the highest average in all three sections of the exam: 1.) Psychological Aptitude Test; 2.) English Composition; 3.) Algebra and Plain Geometry.

Application blanks for the examinations may be obtained from the principals of the various high schools in the Baltimore locality or from the Registrar's Office at the College.

Loyola History Readied For Centennial

The Very Reverend Francis X. Talbot, S. J., President of Loyola College, recently addressed the re-organized History Academy on the subject of the Centennial History of the College which will be published in 1952. He expressed the hope that the academy would assist him in gathering data for the book.

The work will be conducted under the direction of Dr. William D. Hoyt, the society moderator and professor of History at the College.

Research Planned

At the same meeting plans were outlined for compiling the volume. Research for the project will follow these general lines: 1.) a description of Baltimore's background from 1850 to 1875, and circumstances surrounding the founding of the College in 1852; 2.) the early days of Loyola gathered by interviews with many of the College's oldest graduates; 3.) an account of Loyola at Evergreen from 1921 to 1952.

The literary task is designed to trace the growth of the College from its meager start in two rented houses on Holliday Street to its establishment at Evergreen.

Talks On Russia

At the regular meetings of the History Academy at 11:00 a. m. on Friday, a series of talks have been given on Russia. This is the principal activity of the organization at present. The moderator expects the society's latest assignments to consume most of the time allotted to future activity.

There are approximately twelve regular members of the academy but an increase in enrollment is anticipated.

Supplement Issue

A special four page Supplement issue of THE GREYHOUND will be published next week which will be devoted exclusively to the Student Chapel Drive.

Two Queens Reign At Junior Prom

Two queens will reign at the prom which Loyola's two Junior Classes are combining to sponsor at the Sheraton-Belvedere Hotel on June 4. The dates of the presidents of the January and May Classes will serve as the queens.

Morton Gilden has been appointed to head the Ticket Committee for the dance which will feature Carl Hamilton's orchestra.

Because the January '49 Class will hold elections at the end of May, it will not be possible to select that class' queen until the week before the prom.

Program Outline

Loyola will be honored by radio programs on all leading Baltimore stations. There will be six programs consisting of (1) The President, Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., (2) Jesuit History, World Wide, and at Loyola in Baltimore and Maryland, (3) Famous Professors, (4) Famous Professional Alumni, (5) Famous Athletic Events and Personalities, and (6) The Students.

See your Local paper for time and station.

An Editorial

On May 3 the feverish political campaigning now in progress at Loyola will be culminated when the student body votes for a new President of the Student Body and a new President of the Athletic Association. THE GREYHOUND feels that several important changes should be made in the present voting procedure before that time.

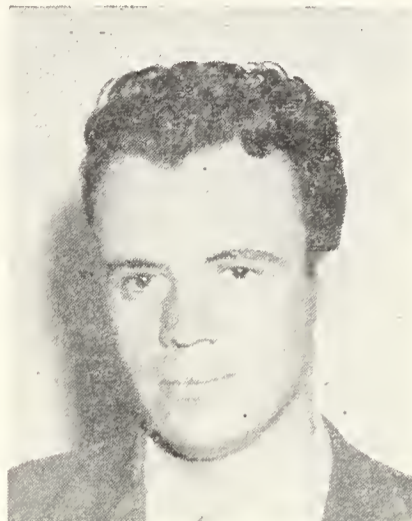

To the Student Council, which controls and oversees class and student body elections, the following improvements are suggested:

1. A permanent official ballot box, located in a portable election booth, should be used in all elections.
2. A permanent election committee, comprised of Student Council members, should be appointed to supervise elections during the entire school year.
3. Official, printed ballots should be used in all elections instead of scraps of paper torn from pads and notebooks.
4. A definite location should be selected at which all elections would be held.
5. Election officials should take upon themselves the duty of publicizing coming elections and clarifying eligibility requirements for those in doubt.

To the student body, THE GREYHOUND suggests one final improvement. Shake off the ennui and vote, all of you, in the coming general election and in your class elections when they are held.

Council Will Supervise All Election Procedures

Council President

Dudley Shoemaker

A. A. President

Tom Gisriel

The results of the Elections scheduled for May 3 will be announced officially in the May 7 issue of THE GREYHOUND.

Primary elections for the State of Maryland will take place on May 3. On that same day, Loyola will be holding its elections for President of the Student Council and the President of the Athletic Association.

Dudley M. Shoemaker and W. Thomas Gisriel will retire from these offices to which they were elected last May.

Conducted By Council

Representatives of the Student Council will enter all classrooms on election day with ballots. The students will vote and the Council members will collect the votes.

At the end of the day, representatives of all the candidates will meet with the Student Council to count the votes. The final results will be kept secret until the May 7 issue of THE GREYHOUND.

Candidates Ready

All candidates have been conducting their campaigns with enthusiasm and all are confident of victory. The combinations of Custer and Wittelsberger and of Gallagher and O'Donnell have pooled their programs.

DiNardo and Bamberger, candidates for President of the Student Council, and Roche, Galloway and Parr have been conducting separate campaigns.

According to present plans, the Student Council will place a ballot box in the cafeteria so that those students who are not attending classes when the council members take the ballots may have an opportunity to vote.

Fay Captures First Place In Hearst Oratorical Test

Donald E. Fay captured top position in the semi-finals of the Hearst Newspaper's "Benjamin Franklin" contest held at the City Hall last Tuesday evening. Fay will speak again tonight at the Enoch Pratt Library Auditorium in the State Finals.

Opposing Fay will be five other successful entrants who were also selected last Tuesday.

Navy Chosen

The speakers tonight will represent Loyola, Navy, Johns Hopkins, and the University of Baltimore.

In the semi-finals, Francis X. Gallagher of Loyola was tied for a position in the State Finals but was eliminated when a count of total percentage points was taken to break the tie.

Judges who selected the six college finalists were:

Section "A"—Miss Helen Elizabeth Brown, former president Women's Bar Association; Henry B. Waskow, speech instructor at Patterson Park High, and Thomas J. Tingley, Baltimore lawyer and former Assistant City Solicitor.

Section "B"—Miss Helen Chambers, supervisor of English for the Baltimore public schools; Brother Daniel Henry, principal of Calvert Hall High School, and John Desch, dramatic instructor at City College.

John Evelius, Donald E. Fay and Francis X. Gallagher were chosen as Loyola's contestants in the Benjamin Franklin Oratorical Contest in eliminations held at the College on April 15.

These students took part in the semi-finals in the City Council Chambers on Tuesday, April 20. Six students were chosen from this group to enter the state-wide finals tonight.

To Be Held At Pratt

These finals will be held at the Enoch Pratt Library in the main auditorium. Maryland Colleges participating in the contest are: University of Maryland, University of Baltimore, the Johns Hopkins University, The Naval Academy, Washington College, Morgan College, Western Maryland College, Goucher College, Notre Dame of Maryland, Mt. St. Mary's, Mt. St. Joseph's, Mt. St. Agnes and Loyola.

The winner of the state finals will take part in the Eastern Zone finals.

Finals In New York

The Eastern Zone Finals will be held in New York in the near future. The winner of the zone finals will compete in the national finals.

The Benjamin Franklin Oratorical Contest is sponsored by The Hearst Newspaper Syndicate, Inc., and offers $25,000 in prize money. The Maryland first prize is $500 and the national prize is $1,000.

Bob Custer, the vice-president of the Mask and Rapier Society received an invitation to the Symposium of the "The Sunday Nighters," for the members of the Society. The subject of the discourse was "Folk Drama," and was held at the Vagabond theatre on April 11, at 8:00 p.m.

C.Y.O. Elects Shock Club Vice-President

Harry Shock was elected vice-president of the Senior Council of the CYO at the April meeting of the organization. The incumbent is a Sophomore at Loyola and will perform his duties in the Council of the Archdiocese of Baltimore.

Shock is a member of St. Thomas' Senior Club and had earlier been named Publicity Chairman of a series of forums on marriage which was sponsored by the CYO. He has been active in CYO activities for some time. Despite the interest that Shock devotes to outside activities, he finds time to play on Loyola's baseball team.

Annual Alumni Dance

In view of the change in the date of graduation announced by the College, the Alumni Association has decided to change the date of its Annual Dance from Saturday, May 29 to Saturday, May 22. Since the dance is planned as an occasion for welcoming the graduates into the Alumni Association, it was considered wise to have the affair at a time when the Seniors of the Graduating Class of 1948 would be available. The Committee in charge of arrangements for the dance will begin contacting Association members within the next few days. The Graduates will be the guests of the Association on the occasion. Be sure to make reservations for your party in due time. Don't miss this Alumni activity!

Wedding Announcement

Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Burch, '41, announce the birth of a son, Francis B., Jr., on February 27, 1948.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Guidera, Jr., '47, announce the arrival of a daughter, Mary Catherine, on April 9, 1948.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Kelly, '30, announce the birth of their daughter, Kathleen M., on April 3, 1948. Aquin P. Feeney, '30, was godfather at the Baptism.

Successful Communion-Breakfast

All of the 150 members of the Association who attended the Annual Alumni Communion Mass and Breakfast at Evergreen on Sunday, April 18, will agree with the title of this section of Alumni Doings. The occasion will be long remembered. The thanks of the Association are in order for the Chairman of Arrangements, J. Joseph Curran, ex '26, and those who worked with him on the contacting of members of the classes. Special thanks are due to the Most Rev. Lawrence J. Shehan, D.D., for an inspiring address. Among those who added to the occasion were the glee club members who sang at the Mass and the organist from Notre Dame of Maryland.

ALUMNI COMMUNION BREAKFAST—The Hon. Herbert R. O'Connor, the Most Reverend Lawrence J. Shehan, D.D., auxiliary bishop of Baltimore, who gave the principal address, William J. O'Donnell, President of the Alumni Association and the Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., are shown at the speaker's table during the Alumni Communion breakfast held last Sunday.

Bishop Shehan Speaks At Alumni Breakfast

The Alumni Association held its Annual Communion Mass and Breakfast on the Evergreen campus on Sunday, April 18. Approximately one hundred fifty Loyola Graduates attended.

The highlight of the morning's activities was an address by the Most Reverend Lawrence J. Shehan, D.D., auxiliary to the Archbishop of Baltimore.

Fr. Talbot Celebrates Mass

The day began with the hearing of confessions at 8:30 a.m., followed by Mass in the campus chapel at 9:00. The Very Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S.J., President of the College and faculty representative to the Alumni Association, celebrated the Mass. Alumni members served as acolytes.

The College Glee Club, directed by Mr. Felice Iula, rendered several hymns.

Breakfast Served

Following the Mass, breakfast was served in the Oak Room of the Library Building. The meal was prepared by the Slater System.

Mr. J. Joseph Curran, '26, was chairman of the committee that arranged the affair.

Speaking to the 150 members of the Alumni, Bishop Shehan made particular reference to the Italian elections and the power of the leftist party in a Catholic country.

He attributed part of their powerful surge into Italian national prominence due to the fact that in Italy there is no middle ground between the Catholic Church and the atheistic social system. Here in the United States Protestantism provides the other alternative between the Catholic Church and Communism. A person can be outside the Catholic Church and still adhere to the basic social system subscribed to by the Church.

In Italy, there is no alternative. Either you are a member of the Church or you are a member of the communistic social system.

New Record By Columbia May Have Hit Parade Potential

Victor, Mercury and Columbia came through last week with a few pre-releases which will probably crash the hit parade at no far-off date. The first is by Columbia, a commercial dog-tune titled on the lovely label as Ah-Ree Zay. We'd better be asking Mr. Colimore how it's spelled in French.

It's played by Ray McKinley and his band, featuring Ray, himself, on the drums. The lyrics are on the ball.

Mercury Makes Releases

Mercury released to the radio stations a free copy of Mel Torme's Making Whoopie, and County Fair. We might add that Torme wrote the latter himself. The former is an oldie and the latter is a production number which probably will not sell records.

Anyway, it's not the best composition in the world; then too, it's not another Near You.

Victor Cuts One

The Victor cutting was needed by Mr. Texas Beneke and his orchestra with lyrics cared for by Larry Stewart.

The tune is designed for those who love smooth ballads and for those who love, titled Encore Cherie.

Semester Exams Begin On May 17

Semester examinations will begin on Monday, May 17, and will continue through the week ending on May 20. Students who have maintained an average of at least 90% in their subjects may be exempted from taking the examination.

The Spring Term for 1948 will begin on May 24 and will extend until July 16. Spring Term examinations will begin on July 17 and end on July 20.

The greater majority of the Student Body has signed for the Spring Term, according to word from the Office of the Dean.

Graduate Record Exams Scheduled Here On May 3

The Office of the Dean has announced the dates for this year's Graduate Record Examinations. The tests will be given in four sections. The first three parts will be given to all graduates on May 3 and will concern general scholastic achievement. The fourth section will deal with their major subject in their college course, and will be given on May 7.

Dr. William McHugh, professor of Psychology, will direct the examinations. The competitive examinations are given in numerous colleges throughout the nation.

The Challenge

Don't look now, but R. K. O. Radio Pictures need a Tarzan. So desperate are they that they have composed, in some moment of mental relapse, the following "want ad" which Loyola received this week.

"We are looking for someone to play Tarzan. The young man should be between 22 and 25 years of age, an excellent swimmer and a general all around athlete. He should have broad shoulders, a full chest and muscles fully developed, yet not to an abnormal extreme.

"Although acting experience would of course be helpful, a strong face able to project a pleasing personality is even more important. He should approach a minimum of 6' 3" in his stocking feet.

"Should you know of any such young man, please inform us as soon as possible."

The Response

There are several courses of action to be taken in this matter. One is to conclude that R. K. O. wants to place a football team in the professional league next year and is using this as bait.

Another course is to look around the school and see what Loyola can do for this campaign.

Since we have young men between the ages of 22 and 25, we have no trouble at all in meeting the initial requirement. Then too we have some excellent swimmers and several all-round athletes.

Now as to this matter of broad shoulders. All Loyola boys have, of course, shoulders. Webster defines broad as "extended from side to side." Therefore Loyola men have broad shoulders.

Everyone knows that Loyola men have full chests. This can be proven philosophically by demonstrating that no Loyola man has an empty chest. But no Loyola man does have an empty chest. Igitur, Loyola men have full chests. (This is what is commonly called fallacy of undistributed middle.)

With the exception of THE GREYHOUND Staff, all Loyolans have muscles. These muscles are in the majority of cases developed to perfection, not too large, not too small but—just right.

I cannot truthfully say that all have strong faces. However, Loyola men can project pleasing personalities; if not their own, someone else's.

Panuska Promises Annual On May 15

J. Allan Panuska, editor of the Evergreen Yearbook, has announced that the publication date will be May 15. "The entire book is at the printers," he said. "All copy, pictures and other material are in, and we will distribute the finished book on the 15th."

There are still some subscriptions open, and in order that the book might meet expenses, the majority of these must be sold.

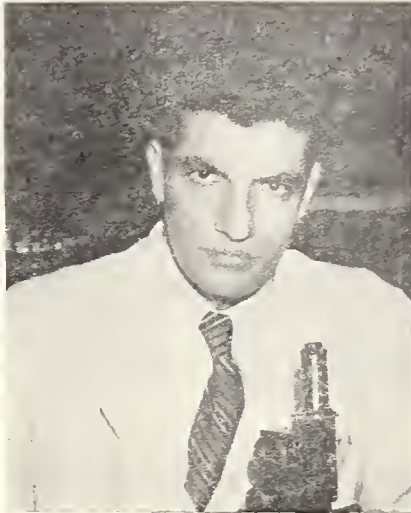

The annual will stress all activities of the College, scholastic and extracurricular. The spiritual and athletic elements of College life are prominently included.

Subscriptions for the Yearbook may be obtained from any Senior. The price for the book is five dollars and the staff has issued notices recently that all payments are currently due.

Meet The Faculty:

Mr. Provenza Studying For Biology Doctorate

by Dave Maguire

Mr. Vincent Provenza

A new addition to the college biology department came to Loyola this year in the person of Mr. Vincent Provenza. Mr. Provenza is a native Baltimorean and attended Catonsville High.

After his graduation, he entered the University of Maryland, where he earned his Bachelor's degree in Zoology in 1939 and his Master's a year later. While at the University, Mr. Provenza was a member of the glee club and the dramatic society.

Original Research

To obtain his degrees, Mr. Provenza did original research on "The Feeding Habits of the Coccidae" and also on "Japanese Beetles."

He is now writing a thesis on marine research, entitled "Zoo Plankton in the Baltimore Harbor," and hopes to finish his paper in time to receive his Ph. D. before the end of this year.

Interested In Music

A former member of the glee clubs of both the University of Maryland and the Towson State Teacher's College, Mr. Provenza is very much interested in music and plays the piano in his spare time. When not engaged in other pursuits, he also finds time for oil painting and pottery work.

Negro Doctor Talks At Mt. Saint Agnes

Dr. Euphemia Maymes, the first Negress to hold a doctorate from Catholic University, spoke before the NFCCS regional Congress at Mt. St. Agnes last Saturday.

Her topic, and the theme of the entire Congress, was "The Catholic Student's Responsibility towards the Inter-racial Problem."

Afternoon panels were held on Science, "The Atomic bomb is here to stay—are we?"; Liturgy, in which Rev. John J. Galvin, S.S., S. T. D., discussed "The Mystical Body of Christ;" Confraternity, "Bearing Christ through Confraternity of Christian Doctrine;" IRC, which heard "United States Foreign Policy in Regard to Spain, the Middle East, Eastern Europe, and the U. N.;" Inter-racial, carrying out the Congress theme; and Radio, "The Student's Responsibility in Radio." Two dissertations on the activities of St. Josephs Radio Commission, of Emmitsburg, were also held.

Junior Sodality Plans Retreat On Ascension Thursday, May 6

The annual Day of Recollection of the Junior Sodality will be conducted on Ascension Thursday, May 6 at Evergreen. It is not restricted to Sodality members alone, any member of the Student Body may attend.

Mass and Holy Communion will open the one day retreat at 9:00 a.m. in the Chapel. Breakfast will be served in the cafeteria after Mass.

Recite Rosary

After breakfast, the Retreat Master will deliver the first of the three lectures in the chapel. The recitation of the Rosary followed the talk.

Following the recitation of the Rosary, the second talk will be delivered by the Retreat Master.

Closes At 3 p.m.

After the second talk has been given, lunch will be served in the cafeteria. Then following lunch, the retreatants will return to the Chapel where they will say the Way of the Cross.

The third and final sermon of the Day of Recollection will be given after the Way of the Cross. After this has been completed, benediction will close the retreat.

Mr. Joseph A. Sellinger, S.J., Moderator of the Sodality, urged all the Junior Sodality members to make an effort to attend. A complete writeup of the program was published in the last issue of Vision, the Junior Sodality newspaper.

green sweaters and special grey letters have arrived and will be awarded as soon as the letters are sewed on. These awards will be made at a special meeting of the Block L Club to the 27 men who have played two consecutive years on one of the following teams: cross country, swimming, wrestling, basketball and soccer.

The only other possible way to receive one of these awards is to earn three varsity letters in one year.

The members of the lacrosse, golf, tennis, track and baseball teams who are now earning their second consecutive letter will receive sweaters at a special meeting of the Block L, to be held in June. The sweater-letter combination will also be awarded to anyone now earning his third varsity letter of the year.

Creative Writing Seminar

The first meeting of the Creative Writing Seminar was held in the Science Building on Friday, April 6, at 8:30 p.m. A round-table discussion was held on the "Epiphany Form and Symbolism in Modern Literature," following the presentation of a short story written by William Heffner. Mr. John Pugh is moderator.

The Seminar will meet Friday nights and Sunday afternoons, alternately. These meetings will be held bi-monthly, and the general public is invited to attend.

Fr. Ayd Protests Sale Of Indecent Books To Minors

The Rev. Joseph J. Ayd, S. J., Professor Emeritus of Sociology at Loyola College and Catholic Chaplain at the Maryland Penitentiary, became the subject of much newspaper publicity last week when he sent an immoral booklet to Mr. Hall Hammond, Attorney General of Maryland, with a demand for official action. This week, in place of an editorial column, THE GREYHOUND presents an exclusive interview with Fr. Ayd, who explains why he took such a step.

Father Ayd wants one point made clear about the whole situation which has arisen over his sending an immoral book to the Attorney General—he is not attempting to set himself up as a censor of what the mature reading public shall or shall not read.

What does worry him is the fact that pornography and indecent literature have been so greatly reduced in price and so promiscuously sold that they now are easily available to children, with no restrictions whatever placed on their distribution or sale. "And it's having an effect," said Fr. Ayd. "From my experience at the Penitentiary and Jail I can quote you case after case which typify the rising rate of crimes of immorality committed by youngsters in their teens and in great measure, attributable to the fact that youngsters have no trouble at all in getting literature of this type."

"When I was young," he continued, "such lewd junk was sold only in bookstores and cost two dollars or more. Kids couldn't afford to buy it, and even if they could, no reputable bookseller would have sold it to them. Now they can buy a twenty-five cent paperback reprint at practically any drugstore, five and dime store or downtown corner and nobody cares whether they do or not."

"The worst of it is," Fr. Ayd added, "the sad fact that there are laws in this state specifically prohibiting the sale of such literature, and yet up to the present time no supervision whatsoever over the sale of these miniature reprints has been exercised by the authorities responsible."

Ed. Note: Fr. Ayd refers to Article 27 of the Code of the Public General Laws of Maryland. Section 494 of this article makes it a misdemeanor to publish obscenity in newspapers or periodicals; Section 495 makes it a misdemeanor to sell such publications; and Section 496 specifically forbids the sale or distribution of obscene publications or pictures to minors. Violations of any of the three articles are punishable by fines and imprisonment.

Father Ayd refused to divulge the title of the particular book in question, but he was willing to explain what he found wrong with it. "Discounting the fact that it was written by a lousy author," he said drily, "I found it objectionable not only because the content was decidedly immoral, but also because the title was a distortion of Sacred Scripture, with a pornographic import."

What disturbs Father Ayd especially is the fact that his action has received so much publicity. "I wanted the whole situation handled quietly," he explained. "I certainly was not trying to reproduce a situation such as they have in Philadelphia, where the police have seized a number of high-priced best-sellers they thought indecent."

When asked to define the dividing line which separates art from pornography, Fr. Ayd pondered the question a moment and then replied: "That's a difficult point to put your finger on, but I am definitely certain of what art does not include."

"I would say, for instance, that a picture of a young woman displaying a considerable portion of her anatomy, with a dirty comment or headline above or below the picture is certainly not art. Some publishing houses have no conception of art and no intention of producing it, they simply specialize in spreading filth."

Meanwhile, Fr. Ayd is still waiting for a decision covering the particular booklet that caught his attention. So far, it has traveled from the Attorney General to the State Attorney's office, from there to the Commissioner of Police, and is now being "critically read" by the head of the local vice squad. Fr. Ayd plans to take no further action on the matter until a result of their findings is announced.

"Meanwhile," he concluded, "books which no father should allow his children to read are still being sold to any kid with a loose quarter in his pocket, and the rate of juvenile delinquency is going up."

CYO Sponsoring Marriage Talks

The Catholic Youth Organization of Baltimore will sponsor a series of lectures on the general topic, Planning for Marriage, during the remainder of April and May. The talks will be given each Tuesday at the Knights of Columbus Home, Cathedral and Madison.

Admission for all the lectures is free. Last Tuesday the first of the series, The Threshold of Love was delivered by the Rev. John J. Duggan. The remaining lectures are as follows:

Tues., April 27—Life Together—Rev. Paul F. Palmer, S. J.

Tues., May 4—Privileged Parenthood—Mrs. Edward Bradley Bailey.

Tues., May 11—Marriage in Church and at Home—Rev. John S. Martin.

Tues., May 18—Protecting Christian Marriage—Rev. Edward V. Echle.

Tues., May 25—The Business Side of Marriage—Dr. Alphonse Clemens.

The Criticlog

by George Herman

It takes a great deal of talent to sing the roles in an operetta, and a glorious coloratura soprano can thank God for such a wonderful gift. Not only that, but she must do justice to her voice and sing those songs that do well by her. Jeanette MacDonald should not sing The Dickey Bird Song. It helped neither her nor the Dickey Bird. It also failed to do much for the box office receipts on Three Daring Daughters.

Miss MacDonald, like a lovely rose in the fall, is fading. If she intended this picture to be a comeback, I am afraid she failed miserably. In fact, much of the picture was stolen by Jane Powell singing a majority of songs that did well by her, and the youngest daughter of the three who pulled a Margaret O'Brien on the people, and did better than Miss O'Brien could probably do.

A semi-triumph of the screen is Naked City with Barry Fitzgerald in a role of a police inspector and under the splendid direction of the late Mark Hellinger. It was photographed on the spot with the people in it that were there when the cameraman came around. People have long said that showing a scene as it is, would be boring. This proves differently.

As I recall, recently, a unique experiment with camera technique was produced by a roving cameraman known as Weegee. He photographed New York as he saw it—children sleeping on fire escapes, or playing under the stream of water from an open hydrant. He called it The Naked City and much of his camera technique is still preserved in this photoplay.

This same Weegee has caused a stir in Hollywood circles by producing motion pictures with surrealistic images and ideas. Pictures of this type have recently received favorable notices, despite blue-faced people (yeah, they really have blue faces) who starred in one of these films.

In closing, I might add that the Boulevard has just installed new seats which are very conducive to sleeping. Make sure you see Unconquered there.

Mason-Dixon Conference Expands, Adds 3 Schools

by Don Fay, Sports Editor

While we've all been keeping our eye on the performances of Loyola's five spring teams, cheering with the wins and feeling a bit downcast after losses, there have been some interesting developments behind the scenes of conference play that are of the greatest import to Greyhound aggregations and their chances of garnering honors in the Mason-Dixon wheel.

The outstanding event during the past few weeks was the decision of the M-D league to throw out the welcome mat for the University of Baltimore, Roanoke College and Lynchburg College. Thus the ever expanding conference has added three more institutions to its rolls, a move that is due to make competition keener, since the future champs of the loop will have three more hurdles to master before becoming title holders.

Second development was the action of the league moguls to split the conference teams into two sections, a North and a South group. Heretofore, the members were all in one bracket. Now, there are two divisions, and the winners of each section will vie for honors as kings of the conference.

The move to include the above mentioned schools became effectively immediately after the decision some two weeks back. Thus, although it wasn't expected when the schedules were drawn up, the Hounds picked up another league foe in the University of Baltimore.

That means that last Thursday's baseball clash, originally a tune-up tilt for Lefty Reitz's bat-and-ball boys, will count very much in the standings.

While on the subject of that game, we can't let this opportunity pass without a few syllables in praise of the pitching of Bill Carroll. Carroll dispelled any fears that Lefty may have had about his speed-ball southpaw's having a bad year. The ex-Poly portsider was in complete control throughout the tilt, as fourteen U. of B. batsmen hit the air in futility, proving easy strikeout victims.

Carroll has been throwing the old apple from the hill for a long time now. A long time standout player, he was given his great thrill last summer when, after thorough workouts with the Maryland all-star group, he was picked best. He was selected as the outstanding sandlot player in the ranks of Baltimore, and sent to Philadelphia for the American all-star game sponsored by the Hearst papers. In his short tenure on the mound late in the game, he pitched flawless ball.

We might also mention that Carroll had a good team behind him last Thursday, a team that has its eyes on the league flag.

Despite a solid trouncing absorbed by American U. last week, Lefty Reitz's thumpers are still very much in the fight.

Ed Hughes Paces Scoring As Stickmen Spank Yale, 9-2

It took Bish Baker's lacrosse charges until the final game of the season to grab a victory for Loyola last year, but the Greyhound stickmen tucked one away in a hurry for 1948 by walloping Yale in the locals' second outing, 9 to 2, at Evergreen.

The Big Blue from New Haven found itself in an affair of bulk versus speed and skill, as the smaller Loyolans outraced and outmaneuvered their heftier opponents, and kept a comfortable lead throughout the contest.

Hughes Scores Three

Lean, wiry Ed Hughes, veteran midfielder, took a toe hold on scoring honors with three well executed tallies, while Ed Miller, Ray Wittelsberger, Jim Connolly, Bob Miller, Jim Oaster, and Jack Whelan found the target once each.

Loyola stepped out with a quartet of goals in the first 15 minutes, and though the Elis hit the netting in the second period, Connolly got it back with a shot in the closing seconds of the half.

Defense Outstanding

Swede Larson got credit for the Yale tally, as his attempted pass was inadvertently knocked into the goal by Skip Barry, Loyola goalie. However, Connolly ended the session with a long shot that registered low in the corner of the net.

The attacking phase notwithstanding, Loyola's defense cordon was outstanding as Barry, John Mohler, and Wittelsberger (who scored on a long solo dash) showed up to good advantage.

Carroll Flips Two-Hitter To Down Baltimore U., 7-2

Lefty Bill Carroll dosed out a two-hit diet for Baltimore University's Bees last Thursday afternoon at Evergreen, and Loyola's baseball nine had a 7-2 feast in its initial Mason-Dixon Conference outing of the spring. The Bees are a member of the conference, after a ruling by the M-D bigwhigs allowed them, Roanoke and Lynchburg in the loop.

Eagles Take 12-3 Tilt

American University dealt Loyola its first setback of the season in a 12-3 basball slugfest on the victors' field in Washington last Friday afternoon.

Inability of pitchers John Bailey and Charley Sybert to halt the American U. batsmen was the chief cause of the loss. The Eagles slapped out twelve hits, and batted around in the fifth inning when they scored seven runs. Ben Spurrier and Mike Zedalis got two hits each for Loyola.

Carroll, armed with fast ball, curve and poise, was poison to the visitors, for in addition to the pair of skimpy hits he allowed, he struck out fourteen enemy batsmen.

Carroll is the lad picked by the Hearst Papers as the outstanding sandlot player in Baltimore last summer.

Tommy Lind, cavorting at third base, had a field day at the plate as he banged out four hits in five appearances to pace the hit brigade.

Five Runs In First Inning Help Farace Win Over C. U.

Dick Farace scattered any doubt as to the effectiveness of his injured shoulder by pitching Loyola to a 6-3 win over Catholic U. at Evergreen the Saturday before last. While Farace limited the Cardinals to three hits the Hounds gained their first win of the season with a show of powerful batting.

It was a big, five-run first inning which put the game away for the Greyhounds. The first run scored when Jack Whalen singled in Bill Tucker who had walked, reached second on a wild pitch and third on an outfield fly.

Tommy Lind Homers

Tommy Lind reached first on an error and Mike Zedalis punched a single over short to score Whalen. A pair of walks from the Cardinals' Paul Dare forced in Lind. Pitcher Dick Farace then rapped out the first of his two hits to end the scoring with two more runs.

Lind, Loyola's slugging third baseman, blasted a homer over the right-center field fence in the fifth inning with no one on base.

Farace Fans Nine

Farace, while becoming the first Loyola hurler to go the route, had nine strikeouts. Paul Dare recovered from his early wildness to whiff eleven Hounds, but he was rapped for eight hits.

5-3 Match To Loyola

The varsity netters added victory number four to their slate Tuesday when they downed the Western Maryland tennis team by the score 5 to 3. The action took place on the Evergreen courts.

Frank Scrivener and Jim Lacy remained undefeated in their court play for the season. Scrivener defeated Ken Vohart in straight sets 6-0, 6-3, while Lacy subdued Dick Moore 6-2, 6-3.

Ed Ward forced G. Spittel into extra games before bowing 8-6 and 7-5. This match alone took nearly two hours of play. In direct contrast the Scrivener-Vohart contest took only twenty minutes to complete.

Gene Nolan was the other victor for the Hounds in the singles' competition. He downed Dave Weaver on the number four court, winning two straight sets 6-2.

Lacy teamed with Jerry Laroque to defeat a combination of Vohart and Sack in the number one doubles. The score was 6-2. This was the second victory for Loyola in Mason-Dixon competition balanced against one loss.

Summary:

Scrivener, Loyola, defeated Vohart, 6-0, 6-1.
Laroque, Loyola, defeated Moore, 6-2, 6-3.
Lacy, Loyola, defeated Stern, 6-1, 7-5.
Nolan, Loyola, defeated Weaver 6-2, 6-2.
Sack, Western Maryland, defeated Thaler, 7-5, 6-3.
Spittel, Western Maryland, defeated Ward, 8-6, 7-5.
Laroque and Lacy, Loyola, defeated Vohart and Sack, 6-1, 6-3.

Colimore Lays Tennis Plans

by Gene Corrigan

Faced with the unusual situation of coaching a talent-packed team with little chance of earning the Mason-Dixon title, Vince Colimore is still full of plans.

Although beaten by a seasoned Catholic U. team April 10, and therefore already out of the running for the league championship, the quiet-voiced Loyola coach foresees a bright season's outlook, and has already taken steps to assure that the teams of the future will be of the same calibre as is this year's.

Situation Explained

This strange situation came about because the conference this year is virtually a two team league. As the teams of C. U. and Loyola were top seeded in the M-D group, the title would probably go to the winner of their first match. This follows a conference rule that although the members will play on a home and

Track Event

In conjunction with the Invitation High School Meet to be run on May 8 at Evergreen, Bill McElroy and Franny Mueller have lined up an intramural one-mile relay which is open to students of the college.

Medals will be awarded to the winners, and the Rev. Francis X. Talbot, S. J., will make the awards along with the prizes to the high school champions.

At the end of the two seasons, Fall and Winter, there have been a total of 344 different students participating in one or more of the athletic events sponsored by the intramural department.

"Thirty percent participation in any college is considered an excellent turnout," said Franny Mueller, intramural director. "We have topped this in two-thirds of a year and considering also the schedule difficulties, lack of athletic space, means that we have as an active student group as you'll find anywhere—particularly among 'day-hop' colleges."

The golf tourney is a match play affair with matches to be played at Clifton Park golf course. Play started on April 20. An open swim meet will be held later on. Softball leagues will be formed for the students attending the summer sessions.

Team Takes Two League Matches, Loses To Hoyas

by Tom Gisriel

In the past two weeks, Loyola's golf team took two league matches, conquering Western Maryland and the University of Baltimore, and lost to a non-league opponent, Georgetown University.

The Hounds ran their record to three straight victories in Mason-Dixon competition by defeating Baltimore U. at Bonnie View last Tuesday afternoon.

Hole In One

Despite a 79 score by Jack Cronin, the Hound star was beaten by Vince Lynch, 3-2. Lynch had a hole in one on the third hole. Leo Haslbeck had the lowest score for Loyola, a 78, but lost his match, 4-3. Len Saltysiak finished with 79 and won, 6-4. Mel Beeler, shooting an 80, conquered his man, 4-3.

Tom Gisriel shot an 82 and won his match, 6-5. Dick Anderson defeated his opponent, 7-6 and stroked 87 times.

Playing under bad weather conditions, a slight drizzle and cold winds, the golfers defeated Western Maryland at the losers' home course at Westminster, Md. The score was 5½-3½.

Cronin Again Low

Cronin's 72 was again low for Loyola, while Haslbeck turned in a 77. Cronin took his match, 4-3, while Haslbeck halved.

Gisriel and Anderson were victors, while Saltysiak halved and Beeler lost.

Playing at the Indian Spring Country Club, seven miles from Washington, D. C., the Hound linksmen dropped their first match of the season after previously winning from Cornell and Johns Hopkins. Again, weather conditions were adverse, with cold winds in evidence. Almost all the matches were lost on the seventeenth or eighteenth hole.

Haslbeck Only Winner

Cronin's 76 was low for Loyola, but he lost, 3-2.

Shooting an 80, Haslbeck turned in the lone Loyola win, 2-1. Saltysiak, Beeler, Bill Davis and Gisriel were beaten.

Continuing his series of five lectures, Irvin Schloss, professional at the Mount Pleasant course, will talk in the gym this morning (10:45) at the weekly golf clinic.

Impressive Victory Over Olympic Club Ups Hopes

In Philadelphia today and tomorrow for the annual Penn Relays, Bill McElroy's track men have high hopes of putting Loyola "on the map," especially after the team's impressive victory over the Baltimore Olympic Club two weeks ago.

McElroy's workhorses came through with a decisive 69-48 decision in that outing, and the young Hound coach figures that win, plus the experience gained in the Relays in the City of Brotherly Love will give his squad sufficient work to cause trouble to its conference opponents, first of which is Washington College on April 30.

Competitors Listed

Those members of the team who are slated to make the trip to Franklin Field today are Johnny Brunk, Charlie Kimmel, Tom Maskell, Buns Vidali, Lou Roche and Jim Kaufman.

In the Olympic meet, Walt Smyth highlighted the program with his record-breaking victory in the 120-yard high hurdles. Smyth's feat of finishing in 16.6 seconds established a new Loyola mark.

The Greyhounds dominated the 440, 880 and mile runs to provide their main points of the afternoon. Individual winners were John Paszek (880-yard dash); Kaufman (mile); George Brown (two mile); Smyth (120-yard high hurdles, 220 yard low hurdles); Brunk (broad jump); John Mattis (shotput).

Summary Outlined

Summary of the Olympic meet follows:

C. U. Wins

Catholic University won a four-way track get-together among four Mason-Dixon Conference colleges last Saturday afternoon at Washington. Loyola's varsity team participated and finished third.

The winners amassed 79 points for their victory, while Gallaudet had 38 for second spot. Loyola's total of 31 was good enough for the next spot, while American University brought up the rear with 17 markers.

Colimore Foresees Bright Year

home basis, the first match will be the one that counts.

Being beaten by a largely post-grad team, and thereby losing the top honors so early in the year, must have been a tough pill to take, but Mr. Colimore has snapped right back with far-reaching plans.

Junior Varsity To Be Formed

He plans a Junior Varsity squad, which will develop a backlog of seasoned performers, and prevent future set-backs as much as possible. Under this system, the number seven and eight players on the present varsity would be the number one and two JV's.

As for the rest of this season, Vince is fairly sure of an unbeaten slate. He counts on St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, Georgetown, and American U. to give stiff competition, but he would probably put his money on the Grey team.

Outlook Still Bright

He now rates his present players as follows:

1) Frank Scrivener, 2) Jerry Laroque, 3) Jim Lacy, 4) Gene Nolan, 5) Joe Thaler, 6) Leo Ward, Jack Schanberger, Bill McDermott, Bill Monaghan.

With racketeers as worthy as these, and the thought of a new crop in the making, Mr. Colimore said with confidence, "This year's team seems to have much more spirit and determination to win than last year's, although it is a little weaker; it will surely keep up the reputation of good tennis at Loyola."

The Line-Up

Haslbeck Continues Fine Job; Scrivener, Papa-To-Be, Outstanding

"No, no Paul, your swing is too jerky. You've got to keep it smooth through the entire stroke.—here, I'll show you."

With that verbal lesson barely finished, the speaker placed a white pellet on the short-cropped fairway, and eyed the green just 30 yards away. The grip he took on the number nine iron easily betrayed past experience; and following his own advice, he gracefully propelled the ball into the air. At the end of a soaring arc, it plopped onto the velvety carpet, rolled a couple of feet, and disappeared into the cup.

Leo Haslbeck, top notch Loyola golfer, was the lad who did the talking (and shooting) while giving a few instructions to his classmate, Paul Connor, recently.

Nemo, as he is known, is now playing his third season of golf for the Greyhound divot digging squad.

Unbeaten So Far

At this writing, Father Herlihy's golfers have made two 1948 sorties and split even, but Haslbeck is undefeated. In a three way match he knocked off Bob Patterson, of Hopkins, 7-6, and Walt Peek, of Cornell, 3-2. Against Georgetown University, he was the only Greyhound swinger to win, as Jim King succumbed to Nemo's wizardry, 2-1.

This latter triumph gained sweet revenge for the Loyola star. For last year he won 12 out of 14 matches, and it was to Georgetown that he suffered one of those losses.

In the annual Mason-Dixon Tournament held in 1947, Nemo parred and birdied his way through two rounds with scores of 76 and 73, to place second in the event, just three strokes off the 146 total set by the winner.

Played For Poly

One of the highlights of Haslbeck's Freshman year, which was back in '44 before he entered the service, came in the Loyola joust with Navy. Against a rugged Middle team, he finished the regulation 18 holes tied with his opponent, while each of his mates had lost. However, Nemo elected to play off the tie, and the Annapolis golfer won in two extra holes.

Going back several years, his record reveals that Haslbeck performed for Polytechnic's varsity for three seasons, captained it for two, and annexed the Maryland Scholastic Championship during his senior year, in 1943.

There's no trouble to recognizing the Loyola link standout. If you spot a bright red or green colored sport shirt wandering around the campus with an athlete inside it, that will be Nemo Haslbeck.

by Mickey Parr

Nemo Haslbeck

In this issue, Mickey Parr continues his sketches of individual Loyola athletes who are outstanding in their particular sport. Parr's The Lineup will be continued in following editions.

Kimmett, Farace Next Time

In the next issue, The Lineup will feature writeups of Gerry Kimmett, track star, and Dick Farace, outstanding baseball pitcher.

Frank Scrivener

As the page 6, column one Intramurals article mentions, Scrivener now leads the list of "within the walls" athletes, on points awarded for each team participation. He has 107.

If the tennis play of Frank Scrivener appears to be a bit erratic these days, Loyola fans can relax and be assured that everything will be normal very soon. For, besides being an active college athlete the leading netter of the Mason-Dixon defending champs is about to be a first-time papa!

Frank has been playing the best tennis of his Loyola career this spring, and in the team's first four matches, he has turned in as many impressive victories. That gleam you see in Coach Vince Colimore's eye reflects his complete satisfaction in the improvement his ace has made over last year's stellar work.

There's proof enough for this, right in the records. During the 1947 season, Scrivener won 13 and lost 2 in singles matches, which is mighty nice work. Both of those losses were to American University's Bob Miller. Now Bob has a brother, Ed, who is one of the higher rated District of Columbia players, and the latter has never lost to Bob. In a recent test against U. of Md., however, Loyola's tennis titan knocked off Ed Miller, 6-2, 2-6, 6-4.

As if that wasn't enough, the following encounter, against Catholic U., found Frank matching strokes with Bill Thaler, who played number one for Loyola in 1947 and is now a post-grad student at the Washington school. Scrivener waltzed through with a quick 6-0, 6-2 victory.

When the hard stroking racketeer closes out the present campaign, he will have put in four years of performing on the Evergreen courts.

Last summer, Frank was Captain of the Mt. Washington Country Club team, as well as singles and doubles champion of the club. His team went on to take the Baltimore City Club Championship.

He was on the varsity for three years, while at Calvert Hall, and Captain for two.

There should be a sudden, added zest to Scrivener's performances any day now.

Maryland Stickmen Down Hounds, 15-5, At Night

The University of Maryland tried something new last Friday night, and from all indications, the experiment was a success. The Old Liners, playing lacrosse at night for the first time on their home grounds at College Park, swamped Loyola's Greyhounds by a 15-5 score.

Bish Baker's charges, suffering their second setback in three outings, had a generally difficult evening under the bulbs, but added to their troubles by drawing penalties which necessitated loss of players and consequently meant added Maryland points.

25 Penalties Called

Loyola was charged with 15 penalties, while the home forces were accused of infractions upon ten occasions.

Buzz Hall, Jiles Freeman, and Pat Walker were the big guns in the winners' offensive. Hall contributed four important goals to their cause, while Freeman and Walker etched three apiece into the scoring sheet.

Loyola Plays Well

A keyed-up Hound squad fought the favorite Terps on even terms for most of the first half. Loyola added a goal to a 1-3 first quarter score to crawl to within a point of the victors midway of the second quarter. But Maryland soon went on a rampage, and by halftime was safely away to a 10-3 lead.

Jan. '50 Class Elects Ned McNeal President

Edward J. McNeal

Edward J. McNeal was elected to the office of class president by the members of the Jan. '50 class in an election conducted on April 9.

John J. Schuster was chosen vice-president; Calvert R. Phillips, secretary; and Daniel M. Rochowiak, treasurer.

Council Conducts Election

McNeal succeeds Robert Sweeney as class president. The entire election was conducted by the Student Council. Dudley Shoemaker, President of the Council, said that it was one of the most successful elections ever held at the College because of the large number of voters and the efficiency of the entire proceedings.

Sweeney was not a candidate for re-election since he felt that he could not devote sufficient time to the office because of outside duties.

Large Majority

McNeal won the election by a large majority of votes, receiving a total of 247 point votes. Schuster captured 150.

A meeting was held the following week in order to consolidate plans for the coming year and to stimulate class interest.
